...interest-rate constraints, New York state pawnshop dealers are limited on the resale of unredeemed merchandise. They're not allowed to sell unclaimed items directly, as are shop owners in 48 states. Instead, unclaimed goods must be put up for public auction, although a broker is permitted to buy them at the last-price bid.

Only after buying the unredeemed goods at auction can a pawnbroker retail the merchandise. But the broker is also obligated to contact the customer, who has claim to any profit over the...

...the dynamic of overlaid autonomous networks.

We studied optimizing the price-time tradeoff when a broker firm wants to orchestrate the nodes and links of its network to realize a production ... a single product monolithic order, we present a general scheduling and planning model helping the broker firm in its decision process for orchestrating its network. We show how complex trade-offs... dealing with capacity.

Information can minimize total cost of an order. We show that a broker firm favoring a high level of information exchange through its network will perform better in minimizing its total cost for an order, as compared with a broker firm favoring standard information exchange. We discuss trade-offs between the level of information exchanged... since firms need to engage themselves on a longer term. To manage this situation, we propose bids that permit the broker firm to sign long, mid and short term contracts with its partners. These bids contain... in function of the length of the contracts. To sign such contracts implies for the broker firm financial engagements throughout the term of the signed contract. (Abstract shortened by UMI.)

Specification: ...associated with the manufacturer or on its generic WCTBID.com Web server. The hub 100 allows access by the broker systems B1 - Bn on the basis or a tiered access control permission structure and allows them to bid. In any one access, any one broker system can access the current highest bid, but not who that bid was made by. At the end of the bidding process, the hub 100 transmits a message to the winning broker system 100 and issues an invoice. The broker system transfers funds for payment and the hub 100 transmits it on to the relevant manufacturer client 200 less a commission. The goods are shipped directly to the location specified by the broker.

The hub 100 may alternatively...
